Johannesburg, South Africa – August 12th 2020 - JAM International has partnered with ACCA Global as an approved employer, and is recognised for having high standards of staff training and development. Through this partnership, the right skills, ethics and competencies will be made available to ensure business continuity in the most effective way forward.

ACCA (Association of Chartered Certified Accountants) is leading the way in the accountancy profession, providing the gold standard for accounting practices.

The ACCA Approved Employer Programme has been developed to:

- Guarantee development and progression of ACCA students and members
- Continued Professional Development
- Highlighting best practice and benchmarking purposes, ensuring robust training and development
- Meeting the highest standards for employers, students and members

JAM International's association with the ACCA Approved Employer Programme will ensure that attraction and retention of the best available accounting staff. As an NGO, due diligence is vital for securing funding and enabling effective social responsibility for donors. With ACCA approved employees, JAM International is assured of the right advice and support in terms of accounting and auditing processes.

“We are delighted to have finalised our Employer Programme status with ACCA, and we look forward to reaping the benefits. With an employee base extending far into different African countries, JAM International will certainly benefit from ACCA's expertise and globally recognised professional competencies.” - Nico Esterhuizen, CFO - JAM International

“The ACCA Approved Employer scheme recognises JAM International's quality staff training and development. By building relationships with Approved Employers, ACCA aims to ensure that the highest standards for employers, students and members are met. JAM International will benefit from the Approved Employer status, making it easier to recruit the best people - and to keep them.” Kada Phiri, Business Development Manager – ACCA South Africa
